

LITERATURE IN THE CLASSROOM: 25 QUICK AND EASY LESSONS FOR PRE-K THROUGH GRADE 3

Lisa Handelman Silverman

Description: Five lessons each for grades K-3 to do in a 30-minute library class or within the classroom to enhance love of literature and reading.

Lisa Silverman is director of the Sinai Temple Blumenthal Library in Los Angeles. Previous to that position, she was a day school librarian for nine years. She is a reviewer for The Five Owls children's literature magazine, as well as a noted speaker on teaching the Holocaust using picture books.

Lisa Silverman has prepared a multi-page handout containing a variety of lesson plans and ideas on the above topic. (It is difficult for someone who has not heard the presentation to fully understand the lessons without hearing the presentation on tape, so getting a copy of the tape is highly recommended.) If you would like a copy of the handout, please send an email to Lisa at lsilverman@sinaitemple.org and she will gladly send one out to you.
