

Resource Description and Access: Some Considerations

The cataloging world marches towards the next in a continuing procession of evolving bibliographic standards—RDA: Resource Description and Access. The emergence and adoption of a new cataloging standard raises a number of questions related to its benefits and impact to libraries and users. To answer some of the questions, the presenters will provide the background and rationale for RDA, major differences from AACR2, and its impact and benefits to libraries and users.

Presenters:

Chamya Kincy (UCLA)

Luiz H. Mendes (California State University, Northridge)